

Physical Education and Sport

BA Hons

Why study this programme?

This programme provides an opportunity to study physical education and sport to honours degree level. It builds on the foundations of physical education and sport provided by schools and colleges through the physical education national curriculum and wider programmes in sport and leisure.

The programme will develop your academic, practical and vocational skills to enable you to pursue graduate employment in a range of sports-related careers. In particular, it provides ideal preparation for physical education teacher training (through the PGCE qualification or Graduate Teacher Programme) and work in sports development.

Why study with us?

The School of Education exemplifies the very best practice in teaching and learning through interactive lectures and seminars, electronic media, peer learning, tutorials and a wide variety of resources.

The School is one of the most diverse of its kind in the country. We are a large, friendly and dynamic School and ensure that each student receives individual attention. We are proud of our pastoral care, which supports our students and helps them achieve their goals. A vital ingredient that helps maximise the success of our students is our diverse partnerships with community projects, the volunteer sector, adult education centres, teaching schools and academies. These help keep our programmes relevant to professional needs and developments.

Our programmes are supported by research and scholarship. Many of our lecturers are active researchers with expertise in fields such as leadership and management, health, play and recreation, comparative education, music education and education policy. The research covers all phases, from early years and schools, to further education and higher education.

Our professional programmes have recently undergone a successful Ofsted inspection, with some aspects of our provision being graded as outstanding. The university has been ranked number one for teaching excellence in London in the Sunday Times University Guide.

The School of Education is located on our Avery Hill Campus, which is set in pleasant parkland in south-east London. Avery Hill has convenient transport links to our other campuses and to Kent and central London. The Students' Union University of Greenwich (www.suug.co.uk) organises a variety of sports and social activities on campus.
